September 13, 2023, from 9:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. Eastern Time

The U.S. Departments of Health and Human Services (HHS) and Agriculture (USDA) appointed 20 nationally recognized experts in food and nutrition to serve on the 2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (Committee). The Committee will meet approximately six times to discuss its evidence review and draft conclusions and make plans for future work. All Committee meetings can be viewed by the public virtually (live and recorded).

Registered Nutrition Professionals can obtain Continuing Professional Education credits by viewing the live or recorded meetings. Meeting materials, including agendas, slides, meeting summaries, and videocast links, can be found on DietaryGuidelines.gov.

Meeting Description:

Meeting 3 of the 2025 Committee includes:

- Presentations by each subcommittee and deliberation by the full Committee regarding progress made since the second public meeting, including protocol development, evidence review and synthesis, and systematic review findings.
- Public oral comments to the Committee regarding their scientific process.
- Discussion of plans for future Committee work.

Learning Objectives:

After viewing the public meeting, you will be able to:

- Describe the Committee's process for protocol development, evidence review and synthesis, and systematic review findings.
- Describe the approaches the Committee will use to examine the current body of scientific evidence on nutrition and health across life stages.
- Summarize public oral comments provided to the Committee.

Credit Hours:

Registered Dietitians and Dietetic Technicians may claim up to 8 credit hours. After viewing a minimum of one hour in length, participants may claim additional credits in ¼ hour (.25 credit hour) increments. If necessary, please round to the nearest quarter hour.
